By and between:

Ms. / Mr. _____

Living in :

hereafter called the “Author”,

on the one part,

AIX-MARSEILLE UNIVERSITÉ

National public scientific, cultural and professional establishment whose head office is located at Jardin du Pharo, 58 boulevard Charles Livon, 13284 Marseille Cedex 07, represented by its president Mr. Éric Berton, hereafter called “AMU”

AMU acting in its own name and on behalf of Mesopolhis, Maison méditerranéenne des Sciences de l’Homme, 5 rue du château de l’Horloge, 13090 Aix-en-Provence, directed by Mr. Nicolas Badalassi, Ms. Magali Nonjon, Ms. Ariane Richard-Bossez on the other part.

Hereafter called “Mesopolhis” or the “Journal”

Preamble

The Journal publishes a Periodical entitled Mutations en Méditerranée, under ISSN number 3002-1308, hereafter called “Periodical”, for which it is responsible for the editorial line and the digital publication chain.

Mesopolhis has entrusted the hosting and free and open access digital distribution of the “Periodical” to Chapitre neuf, under the CC-BY 4.0 licence.

The Author submitted to the Journal a paper presently entitled Title of Paper (hereafter called the “Work”) for its publication in the number of Title of Periodical.

When submitting the Work to the Journal, the Author gave the warranty that the Work had not yet been submitted for publication to any other Periodical, or that if the Work had already been submitted to another Periodical, the Author requested that the reading process of the Work be interrupted.

The Work has been written with the following co-author(s): First name, Surname.

Art. 1 – Definitions

In this contract, the following terms beginning with a capital letter have the following respective meanings:

“Final version of the typescript accepted for publication” refers to the computer-typed version whose content has been scientifically validated and edited (structured, standardised, harmonised, spell- and typographical checking, bibliography verification) by the Journal.

“HTML Format (web format) and detachable PDF Format” refer to the Final versions of the typescript accepted for publication and published on the Journal website.

Art. 2 – Purpose of the agreement

Upon signature of this agreement, the Author grants “AMU” the non-exclusive right to publish the Work in paper and digital format.

Art. 3 – Author’s obligations

The Author undertakes to deliver to the Journal, the full and final version of the manuscript, thoroughly reread and developed in accordance with the Instructions to Authors, which are available online on the Journal’s website. The Author shall deliver his or her Work both in text files (odt, .rtf, .doc, .docx format), and shall enclose the image files when appropriate (.jpeg, .png format at 300 dpi).

The Autor also warrants to AMU:

- that the Work is original and has not yet been disclosed and that he is the owner of the rights he is conceding;
- that the rights assigned have not already been assigned to a third party;
- that, to the best of his or her knowledge, the Work is not a slavish copy of a pre-existing work;
- that should the Work include excerpts of texts or images, even partially, from other prior works that are not in the public domain, the Author shall forward to the Journal all written permissions he or she obtained from the copyright holders and required for a proper publication;
- that the Work does not contain any reproduction, illustration or quotation likely to render AMU liable to third party;
- that, to the best of his or her knowledge, the Work does not infringe the personality rights of third parties;
- that, to the best of his or her knowledge, the Work does not contain false information;
- that the Work contains nothing likely to violate legal provisions and does not offend public decency;
- full and peaceful exercise of the granted rights against all disturbances, claims and evictions of any kind.

Art. 4 – Right granted to publish in digital and print form

The Author grants to AMU the right to reproduce, perform and modify the Work in digital form including:

- the right to reproduce or have reproduced the Work by any third party of his or her choice, in the Periodical or separately from the Periodical, by means of electronic files in any current and future format such as HTML, XML, PDF, ePub, on all current and future digital storage media such as web servers, USB keys, hard disks, storage cards, tablets, computers, Book readers, smartphones, e-paper i.e. electronic paper, likely to store digital data momentarily or permanently;
- the right to translate or have translated by any third party of his or her choice all or part of the Work in all languages, and to reproduce or have reproduced by any third party these translations on all media mentioned hereabove;

- to perform or have performed by any third party of his or her choice the Work and its translations, in the Periodical or separately from the Periodical, by all current and future means of communication to the public, be they free of charge or for a fee per unit or by subscription, including through Internet, networks of any legal entities governed by public or private law such as firms, libraries, educational and research institutions, for online access and for download through distant or local computer connection;
- to adapt the Work and its translations in multimedia form or to include it in a multimedia work, to reproduce it on all media and to perform it by any means mentioned hereabove.

The Author also grants to AMU the right to reproduce, perform and modify the Work in print form including:

- the right to reproduce or have reproduced by any third party of his or her choice the Work in the Periodical or separately from the Periodical, in print form on all current and future media be they analogue, electronic, opto-digital or magnetic, such as CDs and USB keys, in the press including pre- or post-publication, micro-reproduction and photocopy intended for sale;
- the right to translate or have translated by any third party of his or her choice all or part of the Work in all languages, and to reproduce these translations on all media mentioned hereabove;
- the right to perform or have performed by any third party of his or her choice the Work in the Periodical or separately from the Periodical, and its translations, by all current and future means of communication to the public including public reading, scenic and lyric performance, by all means of telecommunication including radio and television broadcasting, on demand media by wire, satellite or wireless, and by webcast online communication to the public, excluding audiovisual adaptation.

The Author also grants to the Journal the right to publish the Work in open access, under Creative Commons licence CC.BY 4.0 International, all types and means of exploitation mentioned hereabove.

In this respect, an information and support note are made available to the Author by the Journal via URL <https://somum.hypotheses.org/12434>.

Art. 5 – Terms of right granted to publish in digital and print form

Taking into consideration the context of the Work's publication, intended to spread scientific knowledge and research findings (article L. 123.6 of Educational code) and in accordance with article L. 122-7 of the Intellectual property code, the Author explicitly grants these rights to the Journal on a gratuitous basis.

These rights are granted on a free and non-exclusive basis for all countries and in all languages, for any current and future means, for the duration of copyright according to French law, foreign laws and current or future international treaties including any extension that may be made to such duration.

The Journal may exercise these rights solely or through third parties; the Journal undertakes to inform the Author of any such grant of right. As the Author grants these rights to the Journal on a non-exclusive basis, he or she is entitled to publish the Work later on with another publisher or on any website (open archive, personal or institutional website) provided the full bibliographic reference of the Work's first publication in Title of issue of Mutations en Méditerranée Journal, sponsored by Mesopolhis of AMU, is mentioned.

Art. 6 – Journal's obligations

The Journal undertakes to publish the Work in issue Title of issue within 15 months of delivery of the Work by the Author, scientifically validated and ready for digital distribution and paper publication.

Beforehand, the Journal shall ensure that the Work meets the standards of academic publication and shall bring editing added value (spell- and typographical checking, bibliography verification and standard setting, structuration of the text, iconography check and processing).

The Journal undertakes to submit a proof of the Work to the Author, the "Pass for digital press" (digital form) and/or the "Pass for press" (print form). Should the Journal publish the Work both in print and digital format, the "Pass for press" statement given by the Author for the print form shall also be valid for the digital form provided the print and the digital forms are similar (apart from possible add-ons specific to the digital form such as hypertext links).

The Journal undertakes to provide the Author, upon publication, a digital copy and a print copy, if the Work is published in a printed version, of the issue in which the Work will be published.

Art. 7 – Open archive policy

As the Author is granting to AMU on a non-exclusive basis the right to publish the Work, the Author is free to post the Final version of the typescript accepted for publication, in an Open access repository i.e. an open archive, as soon as he or she wishes, including as soon as the Work is published in the Periodical, under the Creative Commons licence CC-BY 4.0, in accordance with its own dissemination policy.

Academic social networks (such as ResearchGate or Academia.edu) are not open archives: should the Work be posted on such a network, it must be linked, for sustainability reasons, to the open archive where the Work has been posted.

The Journal grants to the Author the non-exclusive right to post the detachable PDF Format in an open archive (i.e. a sustainable platform giving free access to all without prior registration), as soon as the Work is published in the Periodical, under the Creative Commons licence CC-BY 4.0, in accordance with its own dissemination policy.

Art. 8 – Governing law and settlement of disputes

The present agreement shall be governed by French law.

The Parties agree to first try to settle any dispute arising between them, through a mediation procedure. Should no amicable settlement be reached, the Parties shall be entitled to submit their dispute to the French courts.
